

PROBLEM

Too much inspo

For Chia, the world is just one giant, unorganized asset library that she can't Save As. She doesn't see objects, she sees potential:

- a texture on a napkin
- a color gradient in the sky
- a typeface on a storefront
- the motion of a wave rolling onto the shore

It's everywhere. And it's all being filtered out by the real world before she can use it.
